Employment Services at Empowering Abilities

This quarter, we're excited to highlight the incredible work happening inside Empowering Abilities' Employment Services—a program area that continues to uplift, empower, and open doors for the individuals we support. As Boosters, we get to witness the impact firsthand: employment isn't just about earning a paycheck. It's about purpose, pride, confidence, and possibility. And the team at Empowering Abilities brings all of that to life every single day.

Preparing for Success: Prevocational Services

Prevocational Services provide a strong foundation for individuals who are building their path toward employment. Participants practice essential work habits, strengthen social and communication skills, and develop task proficiency—all in a supportive environment tailored to their success. These experiences help build confidence while setting the stage for future workplace opportunities.

Connecting Talent with Opportunity: Community Employment

Through Community Employment, individuals are matched with jobs at local businesses that value inclusion and diverse talent. Empowering Abilities provides on-the-job coaching and continued support, ensuring each person has what they need to thrive in their role. The result? More individuals finding long-term success, stability, and pride in meaningful work throughout our community.

Growth Through Experience: Enterprise Services

Enterprise Services—Empowering Abilities' in-house employment program—offers paid, hands-on work experiences. Associates participate in real production tasks, learn new skills, and even cross-train to expand their abilities. It's a safe and supportive space for individuals to grow as workers while contributing valuable work each day.

Empowering Abilities Welcomes 3 New Board Members!

The Boosters are excited to extend a warm welcome to three new members of the Empowering Abilities Board of Directors: Tracy Lindaman, Kendra Mulcahy Glazier, and Eric Langan.

Each brings strong professional experience, meaningful community connections, and a shared passion for supporting individuals with disabilities to live, work, and thrive. Their leadership will help guide Empowering Abilities as the organization continues strengthening services, expanding opportunities, and advocating for inclusion in our community.

Empowering Abilities President & CEO, Jeff Ashcraft, shared that the new members bring fresh perspective, strong leadership, and a deep belief in inclusion—all qualities that will play a vital role in the organization's mission.

Board members serve without compensation and dedicate their time to governance, strategic direction, and championing the individuals and families Empowering Abilities supports. We are grateful for their commitment and thrilled to welcome Tracy, Kendra, and Eric as they begin their service. Here's to strong leadership and an exciting year ahead!
